

Valerie is a versatile and in-demand performer.

Known for her professionalism, creative range, and the calm, confident energy she brings to every set. She consistently delivers strong, natural performances that resonate with audiences—and makes the entire production process easier for everyone involved.

- She began her career at age 14 as a runway model for Lord & Taylor in Washington D.C.

Her career quickly grew to include editorial and commercial print work for Patagonia, DuPont, and Asics (cover + interior). She was represented by CED in Los Angeles, where she booked editorial shoots in Mexico, bridal catalog campaigns, and modeled in Florence, Italy for a German coffee commercial and several Italian leather brands.

- Valerie has been the lead female talent in commercial film campaigns for Hilton, Four Seasons, and St. Regis.

She appeared regularly on Fox & Friends as part of their fitness segment. Her film debut came in Tropic Thunder, filmed in Hawaii.

- She is a professionally trained dancer.

Her performance background includes large-scale live events in styles such as Hawaiian hula, Tahitian fire dance, and belly dance—adding to her expressive movement skills and global cultural fluency on stage and on camera.

- She is also an actress & voice over artist.

In 2025, she played Wendy in the sold-out Florida stage production of ‘Alphabet Soup’, earning praise for her presence and emotional range. As a voice actor, Valerie’s demo reel—recorded in London—showcases her impressive range, from warm and sophisticated to bright, character-driven reads.

- Valerie can also be found behind the camera.

She has worked as a stylist for photographer John Russell, assisting in wardrobe and makeup. She recently produced a documentary in Tahiti on eco-conscious pearl farming, praised for its stunning visuals and environmental message.

- And most importantly, Valerie is professionally trained.

Valerie trained at the London Academy of Dramatic Arts (2021–2023) and is SAG-eligible. Her artistic background, cultural versatility, and collaborative nature make her a standout in every setting. She holds a Photography degree from Montgomery College in Washington D.C.
